

TIFFIN CITY SCHOOLS PRESENTS: VIRTUAL PARENT EVENT

Parenting in a Pandemic:
Positioning your kids for
HOPE and success in life!

Parenting is hard. Parenting in a pandemic is even harder. Dr. Joe and Dardi Hendershott provide training across the country to school districts and communities about the impact of trauma on learning, behaviors, self-esteem, and relationships as well as social-emotional learning strategies to benefit academic and life success. In this session, they seek to spark hope and vision for parents and caregivers through strategies aimed at creating a safe space where children and their families can thrive despite this current adversity. Dr. Joe and Dardi are the parents of nine children, with four still being school-age. They love coming alongside others in the trenches of parenthood!
